TWO OTHERS WIN

In an up and down ball game that saw the lead change hands four times St. Luke's came from far behind to finally overhaul and turn back an unexpected tough foe in Hulmeville Methodist with a four-run rally in the sixth inning which turned a 10-8 deficit into a 12-10 victory.

That was the only game St. Luke's played during the week, and as a result of their sixth straight triumph, they increased their first place margin in the Lower Bucks Church Softball League to a game and a half over second place Presbyterian who split two games during the same period.

Presbyterian was upset by a plucky Methodist club by an 8-4 score, with two four-run innings. Both Bensalem and Calvary Baptist scored victories in their only games played during the week, and both did so at the expense of a weak church of Our Saviour club by lop-sided scores of 15-5 and 23-0 respectively.

St. James also won its only game played during the week, an easy 12-3 triumph over First Baptist. Bristol Presbyterian took a 7-0 forfeit game from First Baptist when the latter team failed to put in an appearance for their scheduled game on Thursday evening.

First 10 Jurors in Darcy Case Challenged

Doylestown.—All of the first 10 jurors called in the trial of David Darcy, 22, Philadelphia, charged with the slaying of William Kelly, 38, Feasterville, last December, were challenged in Bucks Co. court this morning.

Of a panel of 121 summoned, 39 had been previously excused, and the first 10 called by 11.30, were challenged. Another long, drawn-out procedure of securing a jury, as in the case of Harry Zeitz and Harold Foster, on the same charge recently, is foreseen.

Darcy is being tried before President Judge Hiram H. Keller. The case for the Commonwealth is being handled by Assistant District Attorney Willard Curtin, with District Attorney Edward Diester as associate.

Darcy is being defended by Webster S. Achey. It appeared from the opening of court that Achey will put up quite a battle for his client. A question of law is involved it is hinted—whether it is permissible to bring in evidence of other hold-ups as was done in the cases of Zeitz and Foster. That point will be argued when the proper time arrives. It was hinted.

Achey also objected to the fact that 39 jurors out of the original panel of 121 were excused previous to opening of court. He stated that due to that fact affairs were "prejudicial to the defendant."

Judge Keller overruled this motion, informing that those excused were released due to poor health or for other necessary reasons.

Darcy, black-haired, appeared in court today, neatly dressed in a double-breasted, blue suit, and wearing a blue and red necktie. He is sharp featured. He listened attentively to all proceedings, and laughed when the tipstaff in calling out the name of a woman juror, listed her first name as "Darcy," instead of "Dorothy."

ST. LUKE'S INCREASES

Upset by Methodist,

TWO OTHERS WIN

In an up and down ball game that saw the lead change hands four times St. Luke's came from far behind to finally overhaul and turn back an unexpected tough foe in Hulmeville Methodist with a four-run rally in the sixth inning which turned a 10-8 deficit into a 12-10 victory.

That was the only game St. Luke's played during the week, and as a result of their sixth straight triumph, they increased their first place margin in the Lower Bucks Church Softball League to a game and a half over second place Presbyterian who split two games during the same period.

Presbyterian was upset by a plucky Methodist club by an 8-4 score, with two four-run innings.

Both Bensalem and Calvary Baptist scored victories in their only games played during the week, and both did so at the expense of a weak Church of Our Saviour club by top-sided scores of 15-5 and 22-0 respectively.

St. James also won its only game played during the week, an easy 12-3 triumph over First Baptist. Bristol Presbyterian took a 7-0 forfeit game from First Baptist when the latter team failed to put in an appearance for their scheduled game on Thursday evening.

Darcy is being tried before President Judge Hiram H. Keller. The case for the Commonwealth is being handled by Assistant District Attorney Willard Curtin, with District Attorney Edward Blester as associate.

Darcy is being defended by Webster S. Achey. It appeared from the opening of court that Achey will put up quite a battle for his client. A question of law is involved. It is hinted—whether it is permissible to bring in evidence of other hold-ups as was done in the cases of Zell and Foster. That point will be argued when the proper time arrives. It was hinted.

Achey also objected to the fact that 39 jurors out of the original panel of 121 were excused previous to opening of court. He stated that due to that fact affairs were "prejudicial to the defendant."

Judge Keller overruled this motion, informing that those excused were released due to poor health or for other necessary reasons.

Darcy, black-haired, appeared in court today, neatly dressed in a double-breasted, blue suit, and wearing a blue and red necktie. He is sharp featured. He listened attentively to all proceedings, and laughed when the tipstaff in calling out the name of a woman juror, listed her first name as "Darcy," instead of "Dorothy."

Bi-County Council meeting for June 17th will be at Newtown.

Nomination of officers was held, and nomination period will be re-opened for five minutes at the July session. Mrs. John Wisner and Miss Edith Norato served refreshments.

AIRMAIL EXPERIMENT

The airmail pickup service of All-American Aviation, Inc., can be discontinued, says the Civil Aeronautics Board, now that its "complete practicability" has been established in several eastern states. Robert S. Burgess, an assistant to the postmaster general, has given the opinion that the airline can substitute regular passenger, freight and mail service for the pickup of mail by planes swooping down to within 15 feet of the ground.

Some of the 120 cities and towns served by this snatch-and-drop service would be left off the routes to be flown under the proposed schedules. But they would still have airmail service comparable to that furnished other parts of the country. Since All-American pioneered the pickup technique in 1939 there have been many developments in regular airmail service. Mail can now reach airfields by better surface transportation. The whole airmail system is more efficient and better integrated.

The costs of airmail pickup, apparently, have risen faster than the use of the service by the public. The Post Office Department lost $432,000 on it during the last six months of 1947. The department as a whole had a big deficit, but in this case there appears no further need for what amounts to a subsidy for experimental purposes. In other areas the pickup service may be introduced as conditions permit.

Meanwhile, too much credit cannot be given to All-American for its pioneering work and for the proof that the pickup devices are practical. Other experimental techniques showed that a man or other heavy object could be snatched aloft in the same way.
For jungle or wilderness rescues, this sort of thing might be invaluable.

THREE-IN-ONE

St. Louis holds the doubtful distinction of being the first city in the nation to levy a municipal income tax. Governor Donnelly has signed a bill passed by the legislature which permits the city to levy a tax of one-half of one per cent on the gross salaries and wages of all citizens, and on the net earnings of corporations.

The law becomes effective on July 18 of this year, and will be in effect for two years unless extended. It is expected to bring an estimated income of $5,000,000 annually.

St. Louis otherwise would be in the red approximately that sum, indicating the critical financial situation in the state's largest city. Many governments continue to ignore the principle rule of good business by spending more than their income. What put St.
Louis so badly in the hole is not explained, but the condition is duplicated in many cities, counties and states. The clamor for more taxes is universal.

Citizens and corporations of St.
Louis will now have their earnings attacked from three sides, with income taxes levied by federal, state and city governments.

ECHOES OF THE PAST

(By Courier Staff Member)

Review of the news as it appeared in the Bucks County Gazette issue dated at Bristol April 14, 1898. The Gazette, a weekly newspaper published in Bristol, was discontinued following its merger with the Courier.

The stable belonging to Thomas W. Patton back of his cigar store on Mill street was partially destroyed by fire yesterday afternoon.
The fire is supposed to be of incendiary origin and started upstairs in the hay loft. The horses in the lower story were removed safely.

A pair of Eucharistic lights have been placed on the altar at St.
James Episcopal Church, in memory of Miss Gertrude Hall. The lights were the gift of 90 members of the congregation and were used for the first time at the Easter service last Sunday morning at six o'clock when they were hallowed.
The lights are lighted only in connection with communion services.

John J. Smith (Phenom) of Bristol, left for Falls River last Saturday to manage the baseball team at that place. For the past two years Phenom has been manager of the Pawtucket, R. I., team.

The annual election of vestrymen of St. James' Episcopal Church was held at eight o'clock last Monday morning in the parish building, when the following persons were chosen for the ensuing year: G. M.
Dorrance, James Wright, Lardner Morris, Louis Loehner, Lewis C.
Wetling, Mitchell Ancker, Serrill
Douglass and B. Windpenny.

TULLYTOWN—Mr. Henry Wright has opened the blacksmith shop formerly occupied by the late Jacob Scott. Henry learned his trade with his father, Mr. Warner Wright.

Borough council met last Monday evening.

A communication received from the Bristol Electric Light and Power Company stated that progress was being made in the placing of 10 two-thousand-candle-power arc lights. The lights would require a separate circuit and that $800 feet of wire had been strung on Bath street. That a sample light of an improved pattern would be here in a few days subject to the approval of the borough.

On motion of Thomas Scott the police force were requested to tender their services without extra pay to the board of health.

Chies Saxton stated that there were over 300 aliens in the borough and he thought that only about 50 were assessed and he thought it advisable for the assessors to have an interpreter in order to make proper assessment.

The drifters for shad took their biggest catch of the season last Monday morning. Messrs. Barrett

Inside Your
Congress

Welcome Home!

—by—

SAMUEL B. PETTEGILL
"The Gentleman from Indiana"

Lord Strabolgi, Socialist member of the House of Lords, wants Britain "to accept the United States into the British Empire." He thinks judging by the popularity of the Royal Family, Americans would be only too delighted.

Thank you, my Lord, for your gracious words. At first blush, your kind invitation seems so sudden.
But, on reflection, there are precedents. The Chicago Tribune, a strong nationalistic paper, once suggested that Britain be made the 49th State of the U. S. A. But some think the Trib has its editorial tongue in its political cheek.

However, Mr. Churchill said, only last month, that Mr. Roosevelt, "the greatest American friend that Britain ever found," had "involved the new world inexorably and irrevocably in the fortunes of the old." So you are not alone, my Lord.

Before joining the Empire, or before Britain joins us, there are a few things that should be considered. There is that matter of taxation which George III and George Washington disagreed about way back in '76. I note that British taxes take 42 per cent of your national income. As our total taxes take only around 30 per cent, would our taxes go up, or yours come down, if we join. That is important to both of us.

Also, in 1776, our forebears protested that King George III had "erected a multitude of new offices, and sent hither swarms of officers to harass our people, and eat out their substance."

Since then, we have made great progress in swarming, but we are still far behind. You Socialists swarm a little better than we do.
You now have 2,000,000 on the payroll, with a population only one-third that of ours. This is a gain of 600,000, or 50 per cent, since 1939. The result is that your woolen mills are undermanned to the extent of 33,000; your textile mills by 78,000; your tailoring industry by 24,000; your bakeries by 18,000; and your coal mines by 60,000. You have so many non-producers on the payroll that you are short of coal, bread, and suits to wear.

Now, if we join you, my Lord, and you swarm on us the same per cent of bureaucrats that you have, will we be able to produce enough to ship you enough under the Marshall Plan?

That requires some thought. But as you have so successfully planned everything from "the cradle to the grave," you will no doubt come up with the right answer. Of course, some small mistakes will be made.
Your Board of Trade decreed that metal discs be attached to the horns of Angus bulls, and then learned that Angus bulls have no horns.
This embarrassed the bureaucrats, but as the bulls didn't mind, no harm was done. Good old John Bull!

We have also made some minor blunders. To save horseshoes, our own planners urged that the shoes be taken off when evening falls, and then put the shoes back on when comes the dewy morn. This gave us all a sixty-horsepower laugh, but we were in need of a little fun right then anyway. No doubt you folks enjoy the 25,000 rules you have to live by as fully as we do.

I read that you are paying 25c per strawberry, $10 for nylons, 70c for a pack of cigarettes, $1.45 for a pound of fresh peas, $20 a bottle for whiskey, etc. But these figures must be all lies and propaganda, for has not your economic czar Sir Stafford Cripps said that "Nationalization after the war will ensure that goods are available at decent prices to everybody?"

My Lord, we join you in the important words of Patrick Atlee who said—"Give us liberally, or give us debt."

square neck-lines, puffed sleeves, and hoop skirts from beneath which peeped eyelet petticoats. Small yellow bows were sprinkled over the gowns. Their slippers were white, and on their hair they wore fresh-cut yellow daisies. The two carried the bride's veil.

White satin was the choice of the bride, the gown, which featured drop-shoulder effect, being filled in with an illusion yoke, and the bodice being pleated. A narrow ruffle encircled the waistline, and the skirt billowed to a lengthy train. A net and Chantilly lace veil was topped by a head-piece of beads and pearls. The bridal cascade was made up of a variety of white flowers, with an orchid in the center, and daisies predominating. White kid slippers completed her costume.

of the nuptial ceremony on Saturday afternoon which united Miss Emma Marozzi, 346 Lincoln avenue, Marozzi. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Peter Pinci at 2.30 o'clock. Vocalist for the oc-

A white gown of satin and lace, with lace train, was the choice made by the bride for her wedding deep lace cuffs. Pearl trimmings edged the sweet-heart neck-line, and a wide ruffle of lace was effectively used at the hemline. Her tiara was of pearl-type orange blossoms, this holding a fingertip veil of lace-edged net. Mixed white blossoms composed the bridal bou-quet.

The attendants of the bride were Marozzi, who was maid of honor for her sister, was attired in light blue; and Miss Marie Duva, Pond street, the bridesmaid, in yellow.

COMMUNICATION

Editor, Courier:
I note that an ordinance calling for the vacating of the east end of Water street, in the first ward of the borough of Bristol, is to be presented to Borough Council for final passage at its next meeting.

The ordinance states that the street referred to was created by an Act of the Legislature of the State of Pennsylvania in 1729; for over two hundred years it apparently has been available for public use.

It also claims that the part of Water street referred to has a width of thirty-three feet and a length of seventy-two feet. If the proposed ordinance is enacted, the land contained in that part of Water street will be taken by a private corporation and will no longer be a part of the borough highway system, neither will it be available for public use. It is unthinkable that the borough would consider passing to a private corporation title to any part of highways without adequate recompense and proper compensation for the loss of its use by the general public.

The members of Council should give serious consideration to the proposed legislation as by its adoption they will establish a precedent that will place not only this Council, but future Councils as well, in a most undesirable position.

AIRMAIL EXPERIMENT

The airmail pickup service of All-American Aviation, Inc., can be discontinued, says the Civil Aeronautics Board, now that its "complete practicability" has been established in several eastern states. Robert S. Burgess, an assistant to the postmaster general, has given the opinion that the airline can substitute regular passenger, freight and mail service for the pickup of mail by planes swooping down to within 15 feet of the ground.

Some of the 120 cities and towns served by this snatch-and-drop service would be left off the routes to be flown under the proposed schedules. But they would still have airmail service comparable to that furnished other parts of the country. Since All-American pioneered the pickup technique in 1939 there have been many developments in regular airmail service. Mail can now reach airfields by better surface transportation. The whole airmail system is more efficient and better integrated.

The costs of airmail pickup, apparently, have risen faster than the use of the service by the public. The Post Office Department lost $432,000 on it during the last six months of 1947. The department as a whole had a big deficit, but in this case there appears no further need for what amounts to a subsidy for experimental purposes. In other areas the pickup service may be introduced as conditions permit.

Meanwhile, too much credit cannot be given to All-American for its pioneering work and for the proof that the pickup devices are practical. Other experimental techniques showed that a man or other heavy object could be snatched aloft in the same way. For jungle or wilderness rescues, this sort of thing might be invaluable.

THREE-IN-ONE

St. Louis holds the doubtful distinction of being the first city in the nation to levy a municipal income tax. Governor Donnelly has signed a bill passed by the legislature which permits the city to levy a tax of one-half of one per cent on the gross salaries and wages of all citizens, and on the net earnings of corporations.

The law becomes effective on July 18 of this year, and will be in effect for two years unless extended. It is expected to bring an estimated income of $5,000,000 annually.

St. Louis otherwise would be in the red approximately that sum, indicating the critical financial situation in the state's largest city. Many governments continue to ignore the principle rule of good business by spending more than their income. What put St. Louis so badly in the hole is not explained, but the condition is duplicated in many cities, counties and states. The clamor for more taxes is universal.

Citizens and corporations of St. Louis will now have their earnings attacked from three sides, with income taxes levied by federal, state and city governments.

Review of the news as it appeared in the Bucks County Gazette issue dated at Bristol April 14, 1898. The Gazette, a weekly newspaper published in Bristol, was discontinued following its merger with the Courier.

The stable belonging to Thomas W. Patton back of his cigar store on Mill street was partially destroyed by fire yesterday afternoon. The fire is supposed to be of incendiary origin and started upstairs in the hay loft. The horses in the lower story were removed safely.

A pair of Eucharistic lights have been placed on the altar at St. James Episcopal Church, in memory of Miss Gertrude Hall. The lights were the gift of 90 members of the congregation and were used for the first time at the Easter service last Sunday morning at six o'clock when they were hallowed. The lights are lighted only in connection with communion services.

John J. Smith (Phenom) of Bristol, left for Falls River last Saturday to manage the baseball team at that place. For the past two years Phenom has been manager of the Pawtucket, R. I. team.

The annual election of vestrymen of St. James Episcopal Church was held at eight o'clock last Monday morning in the parish building, when the following persons were chosen for the ensuing year: G. M. Welcome Home!

—by—
SAMUEL B. PETTENGILL
"The Gentleman from Indiana"

Lord Strabolgi, Socialist member of the House of Lords, wants Britain "to accept the United States into the British Empire." He thinks, "judging by the popularity of the Royal Family, Americans would be only too delighted."

Thank you, my Lord, for your gracious words. At first blush, your kind invitation seems so sudden. But, on reflection, there are precedents. The Chicago Tribune, a strong nationalistic paper, once suggested that Britain be made the 49th State of the U. S. A. But some think the Trib had its editorial tongue in its political cheek.

However, Mr. Churchill said, only last month, that Mr. Roosevelt, "the greatest American friend that Britain ever found," had "involved the new world inexorably and irrevocably in the fortunes of the old." So you are not alone, my Lord.

Before joining the Empire, or before Britain joins us, there are a few things that should be considered. There is that matter of taxation which George III and George Washington disagreed about way back in 176. I note that British taxes take 42 per cent of your national income. As our total taxes take only around 30 per cent, would our taxes go up, or yours come down, if we join. That is important to both of us.

Also, in 1776, our forebears protested that King George III had "erected a multitude of new offices, and sent hither swarms of officers to harass our people, and eat out their substance."

Since then, we have made great progress in swarming, but we are still far behind. You Socialists swarm a little better than we do. You now have 2,000,000 on the payroll, with a population only one-third that of ours. This is a gain of 600,000, or 50 per cent, since 1939. The result is that your woolen mills are undermanned to the extent of 33,000; your textile mills by 78,000; your tailoring industry by 24,000; your bakeries by 18,000; and your coal mines by 60,000. You have so many non-producers on the payroll that you are short of coal, bread, and suits to wear.

Now, if we join you, my Lord, and you swarm on us the same per cent of bureaucrats that you have, will we be able to produce enough to ship you enough under the Marshall Plan?

That requires some thought. But as you have so successfully planned everything from "the cradle to the grave," you will no doubt come up with the right answer. Of course, some small mistakes will be made. Your Board of Trade decreed that metal discs be attached to the horns of Angus bulls, and then learned that Angus bulls have no horns. This embarrassed the bureaucrats but as the bulls didn't mind, no harm was done. Good old John Bull!

We have also made some minor blunders. To save horseshoes, our own planners urged that the shoes be taken off when evening falls, and then put the shoes back on when comes the dewy morn. This gave us all a sixty-horsepower laugh, but we were in need of a little fun right then anyway. No doubt you folks enjoy the 25,000 rules you have to live by as fully as we do.

I read that you are paying 25c per strawberry, 10 for nylons, 70c for a pack of cigarettes, $1.45 for a pound of fresh peas, $20 a bottle for whiskey, etc. But these figures must be all lies and propaganda, for has not your economic czar, Sir Stafford Cripps, said that: "Nationalization after the war will ensure that goods are available at decent prices to everybody?"

My Lord, we join you in the immortal words of Patrick Atlee who said: "Give us liberally, or give us debt."

Editor, Courier:
I note that an ordinance calling for the vacating of the east end of Water street, in the first ward of the borough of Bristol, is to be presented to Borough Council for final passage at its next meeting.

The ordinance states that the street referred to was created by an Act of the Legislature of the State of Pennsylvania in 1729; for over two hundred years it apparently has been available for public use.

It also claims that the part of Water street referred to has a width of thirty-three feet and a length of seventy-two feet. If the proposed ordinance is enacted, the land contained in that part of Water street will be taken by a private corporation and will no longer be a part of the borough highway system, neither will it be available for public use. It is unthinkable that the borough would consider passing to a private corporation title to any part of its highways without adequate recompense and proper compensation for the loss of its use by the general public.

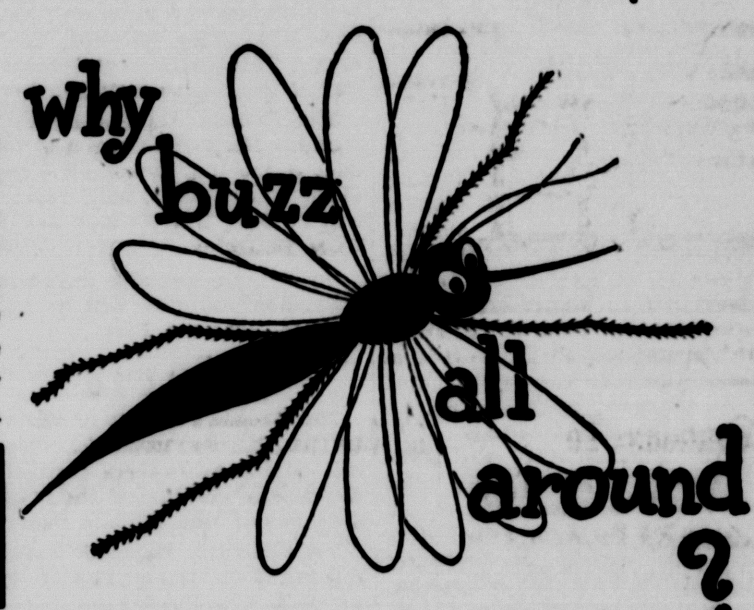

The members of Council should give serious consideration to the proposed legislation as by its adoption they will establish a precedent that will place not only this Council, but future Councils as well, in a most undesirable position.

Prefabricated Distinction

By Marion Clyde McCarroll

Those who dislike the idea of a prefabricated house are apt to express their feeling by saying that they think such houses have a "temporary" look. In other words, they feel the buildings lack the appearance of dignity and stability they want in a home.

Here, however, is one prefabricated dwelling with a definite air of "belonging"; of having taken its place, so to speak, as a family possession. There's a hospitable atmosphere about its big wide chimney and its gracious doorway, an impression of comfort and livability that comes out to meet the approaching guest.

As pictured, the house is a basic unit comprising living room, three bedrooms and bath, a kitchen and utility room, with an added wing, which is not included with the basic house, but the one shown, or one which contains a garage—or, of course, both, if desired—can be purchased in separate additional packages.

Also, the compact little home can be built with the living room at either right or left of the entrance, and constructed with a full basement, a partial basement or simply foundation wall. If the decision for the basement, the stairway

can be purchased, first, as a basic unit containing living room, three bedrooms, and kitchen, and wings bought separately whenever desired.

goes down from the utility room. In this case, one wall of the utility room could be moved to make either the kitchen or the adjoining bedroom larger.

And Here's How the Plan looks in reverse. Both plans have a utility room, but the house can be constructed with a basement if desired.

Prefabricated Distinction

By Marion Clyde McCarroll

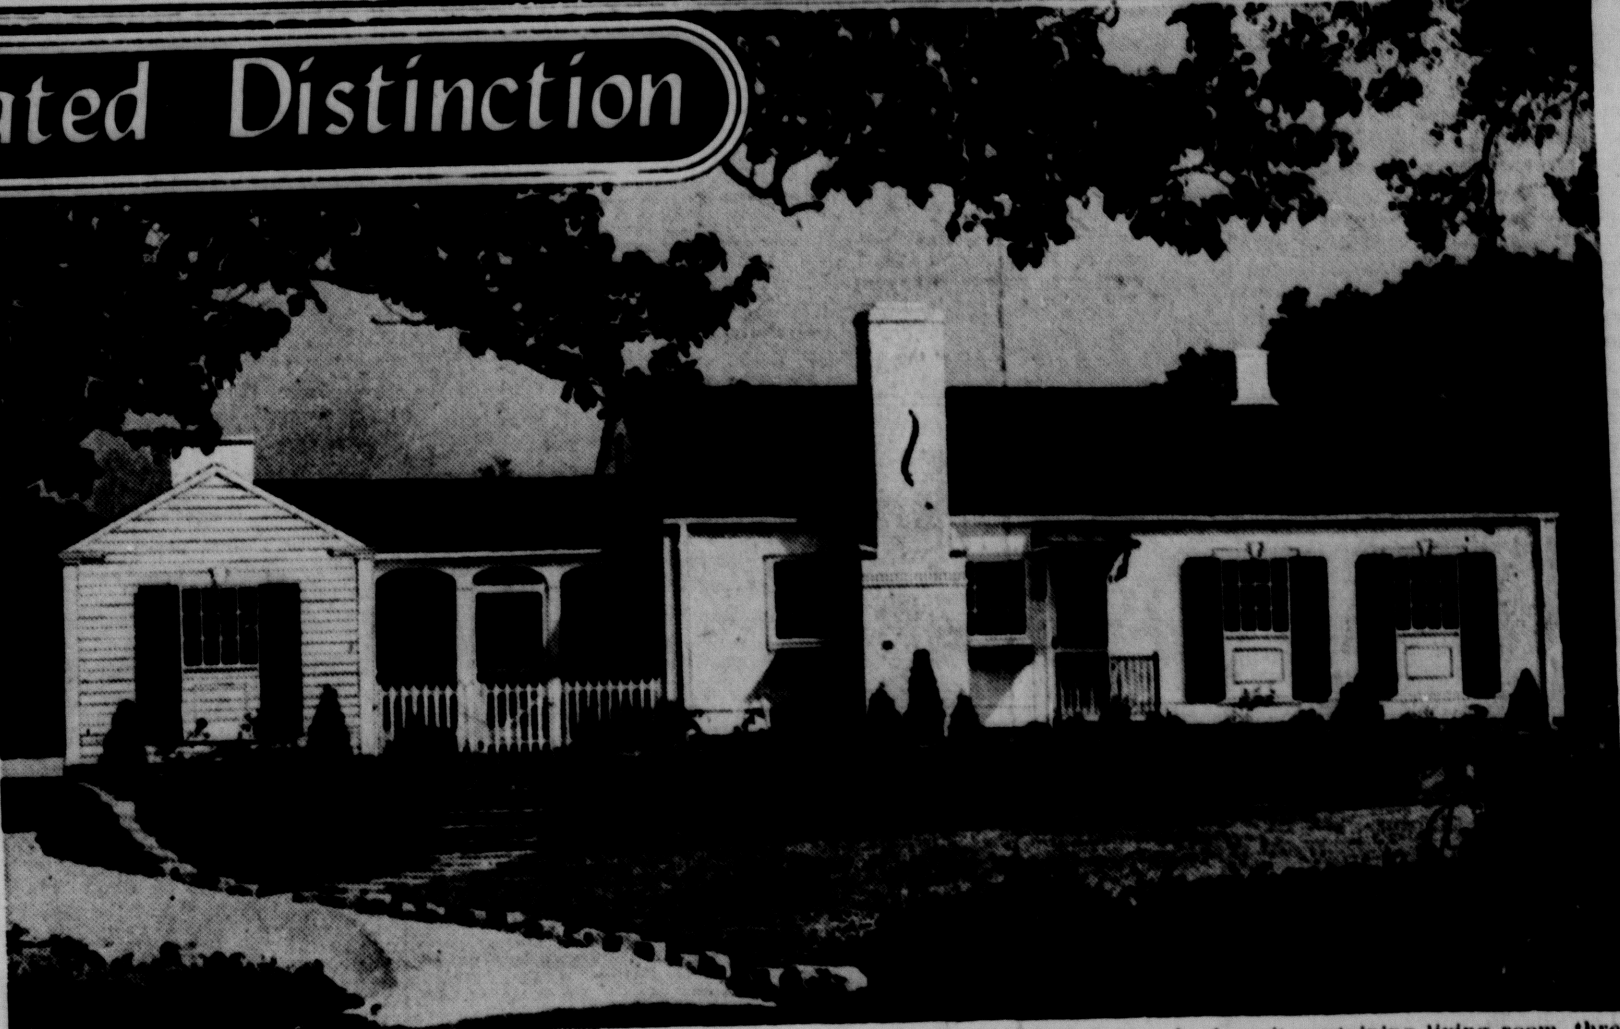

Those who dislike the idea of a prefabricated house are apt to explain their feeling by saying that they think such houses have a "temporary" look. In other words, they feel the buildings lack the appearance of dignity and stability they want in a home.

Here, however, is one prefabricated dwelling with a definite air of "belonging"; of having taken its place, so to speak, as a family possession. There's a hospitable atmosphere about its big wide chimney and its gracious doorway, an impression of comfort and livability that comes out to meet the approaching guest.

As pictured, the house is a basic unit comprising living room, three bedrooms and bath, a kitchen and utility room, with an added wing.

Swimming is not included with the basic house, but the one shown, or which contains a garage—or, of course, both, if desired—can be purchased in separate additional packages.

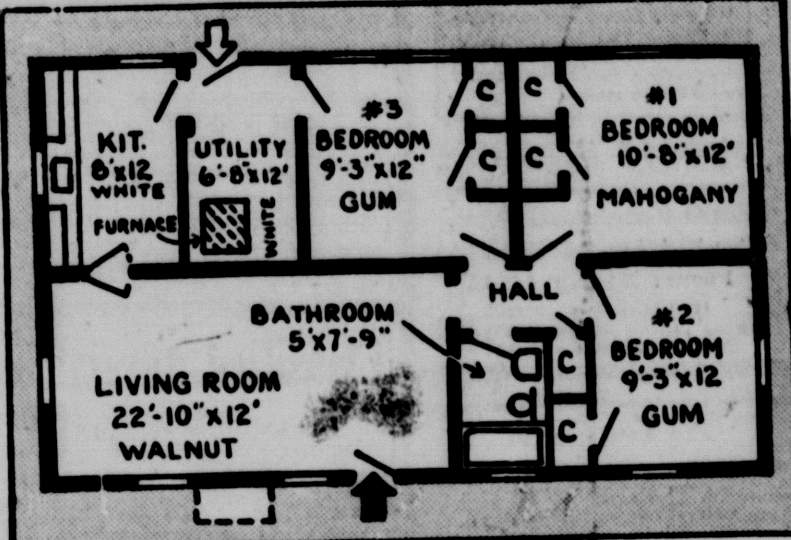

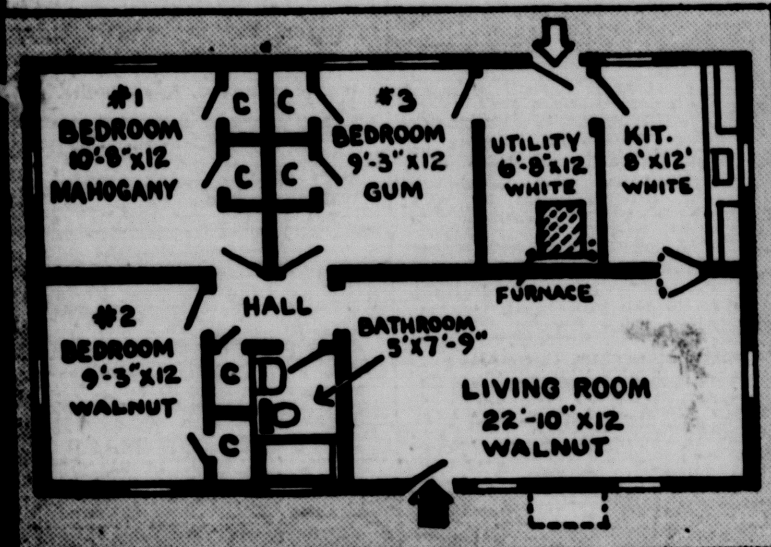

Also, the compact little home can be built with the living room at either right or left of the entrance, and constructed with a full basement, a partial basement or simply foundation wall. If the decision for the basement, the stairway

And Here's How the Plan looks in reverse. Both plans have a utility room, but the house can be constructed with a basement if desired.

Miss Shirlee Gillies and Arthur McCloskey Wed Here

Of interest here on Saturday was the two o'clock wedding of Miss Shirlee Marcella Gillies, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Angus Gillies, 340 East Circle, and Mr. Arthur McCloskey, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur McCloskey, Eddington. The setting for the ceremony was Bristol Methodist Church, the pastor, the Rev. Charles H. Weller, officiating.

Accompanying the vocalist, Mrs. Arthur Peterson, Buckley street, was organist Miss Winifred V. Tracy, Buckley and Beaver streets. Vocal solo included "Because," "O Promise Me" and "I Love You Truly."

Slipper satin was used to fashion the bridal gown, which was entrain. The gown, which buttoned down the back to the waist-line, was patterned with long sleeves and sweetheart type neckline. Her French lace veil was held by a headpiece rimmed in baby pearls and rhinestones. A bouquet of blue roses with baby breath was the bride's choice.

The matron of honor, Mrs. William Kester, Cornwells Heights, was costumed in blue; Miss Grace Hinchcliffe, Railroad avenue, in blue; Miss Marcella Gillies, Collingdale, in pink; and Mrs. Fred Caputa, Market street, in maize. Their gowns were old-fashioned in design, and of marquisette. Wide ruffles were used effectively at the shoulders, above the form-fitting bodices. Skirts were flared, with ruffles at the hem-line. Picture hats, and gold slippers, were worn by the four, they carrying old-fashioned bouquets of mixed blossoms. The flower girl, Donna Kester, Cornwells Heights, wore blue tulle, it having short sleeves, and ruffled skirt. Her headpiece was of pink flowers, and she carried an old-fashioned bouquet.

Mr. McCloskey had as his best man, Mr. William Kester, Cornwells Heights; and as ushers, Mr. Samuel Thomas, Cornwells Heights; Mr. Charles Knoch, Collingdale; and Mr. Theodore Kerlyn, Hayes street.

For attendance at the ceremony Mrs. Angus Gillies, Jr., selected a blue dress, white accessories, and red rose corsage. Mrs. McCloskey, mother of the bridegroom, was attired in a dress of aqua tone, white accessories, and wore yellow roses as a corsage.

The bride is a graduate of Bristol high school; and the bridegroom of Bensalem township high school. The two will reside in Eddington. Travelling costume of Mrs. McCloskey for a trip to the Pocono Mountains included a poudre blue ballerina style suit, white hat and slippers, and she wore a corsage composed of pink sweet-peas.

Today's Quiet Moment

By the Rev. Theodore Kohlmeier Pastor
St. Luke's Lutheran Church
Croydon

Gracious Savior, Jesus Christ, in whose everlasting arms we find forgiveness and peace, protect us graciously from the wiles of Satan and the harmful influences of sinful men. Thou hast brought us to the beginning of another week wherein we wish to perform our daily tasks and meet our family obligations. Do Thou graciously stand by us throughout this week and bless our efforts. To Thee we shall also give all the praise and thanks, doing so with hearts and hands and voices. Watch over all the week, put hope into every discouraged heart, hear our prayer for Thy holy name's sake. Amen.

Miss Shirlee Gillies and Arthur McCloskey Wed Here

Of interest here on Saturday was the two o'clock wedding of Miss Shirlee Marcella Gillies, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Angus Gillies, 340 East Circle, and Mr. Arthur McCloskey, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur McCloskey, Eddington. The setting for the ceremony was Bristol Methodist Church, the pastor, the Rev. Charles H. Weller, officiating.

Slipper satin was used to fashion the bridal gown, which was entrained. The gown, which buttoned down the back to the waist-line, was patterned with long sleeves and sweetheart type neckline. Her French lace veil was held by a headpiece trimmed in baby pearls and rhinestones. A bouquet of blue roses with baby breath was the bride's choice.

The matron of honor, Mrs. William Kester, Cornwells Heights, was dressed in blue; Miss Grace Hinchcliffe, Railroad avenue, in blue; Miss Marcella Gillies, Collingdale, in pink; and Mrs. Fred Caputo, Market street, in maize. Their gowns were old-fashioned in design, and of marquisette. Wide ruffles were used effectively at the shoulders, above the form-fitting bodices. Skirts were flared, with ruffles at the hem-line. Picture hats, and gold slippers, were worn by the four, they carrying old-fashioned bouquets of mixed blossoms. The flower girl, Donna Kester, Cornwells Heights, wore blue taffeta, it having short sleeves, and ruffled skirt. Her headpiece was of pink flowers, and she carried an old-fashioned bouquet.

Mr. McCloskey had as his best man, Mr. William Kester, Cornwells Heights; and as ushers, Mr. Samuel Thomas, Cornwells Heights; Mr. Charles Rhoad, Collingdale; and Mr. Theodore Kerlyn, Hayes street. For attendance at the ceremony Mrs. Angus Gillies, Jr., selected a blue dress, white accessories, and red rose corsage. Mrs. McCloskey, mother of the bridegroom, was attired in a dress of aqua tone, white accessories, and wore yellow roses as a corsage.

The bride is a graduate of Bristol high school; and the bridegroom of Bensalem township high school. The two will reside in Eddington. Travelling costume of Mrs. McCloskey for a trip to the Pocono Mountains included a poudre blue ballerina style suit, white hat and slippers, and she wore a corsage composed of pink sweet-peas.

Gracious Savior, Jesus Christ, in whose everlasting arms we find forgiveness and peace, protect us graciously from the wiles of Satan and the harmful influences of sinful man. Thou hast brought us to the beginning of another week wherein we wish to perform our daily tasks and meet our family obligations. Do Thou graciously stand by us throughout this week and bless our efforts. To Thee we shall also give all the praise and thanks, doing so with hearts and hands and voices. Watch over all the sick, put hope into every discouraged heart. Hear our prayer for Thy holy name's sake. Amen.

Becker-Poore Wedding Is Of Interest To Many

PHILADELPHIA, June 7.—A pretty wedding took place on Saturday at three p. m. in the Emmanuel Episcopal Church, Holmesburg, when Miss Maxine A. Poore, daughter of Mrs. Gertrude A. Dunn, 2031 N. Randolph street, became the bride of Mr. John F. Becker, son of Mr. and Mrs. Herman J. Becker, of Ford road, Bristol township.

The bride entered the edifice on the arm of her father, Mr. Mack S. Poore, of Woodside, L. I., who gave her in marriage. The double ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. Henry Kaufman, pastor of the church. The organist was Mr. Norman R. Hilton, who played a prelude of organ music, the wedding marches, and also accompanied the vocalist, Mr. J. Weber, who sang "O, Perfect Love" and "Because."

A cousin of the bride, Miss Dorothy Thomas, Philadelphia, was maid of honor, and the bridesmaids were the Misses Anna Marie and Ruth Papperman, of Holmesburg. Mr. Herman F. Becker, brother of the bridegroom, was best man; Messrs. Franklin Becker and John Poore, brothers of the bridegroom and bride, respectively, acted as ushers.

The bride was attractively attired in a gown of white satin, with an off-the-shoulder illusion neckline trimmed with bands of white satin; long tapered sleeves; a pick-up effect around the entire skirt, showing a white satin petticoat, the skirt ending in a long flowing train. The three-tiered veil of tulle, with bonnet effect headpiece, was trimmed with orange blossoms. She carried a white prayer book trimmed with a white orchid and stephanotis.

The maid of honor and bridesmaids were attired in white net gowns over taffeta, with off-the-shoulder necklines and bishop collars. A taffeta sash on each gown was gathered into a large bow in the back, giving the effect of a bustle. The attendants wore short nylon gloves; their headpieces were white nylon bonnets. The maid of honor carried an old-fashioned bouquet of pale pink roses and the bridesmaids' bouquets were of pastel flowers.

The bride's mother wore a gown of aqua crepe, with headpiece of pale pink flowers trimmed with aqua. Her corsage was of pale pink roses.
